

TuneEd Copyright and Disclaimer Page

Content for <https://tuneed.uk/copyright>

Last updated: 1 May 2026

This page explains ownership of TuneEd content, how licensed schools may use resources, and how TuneEd refers to third-party musical works and exam-board materials.

1. TuneEd content

Unless stated otherwise, TuneEd owns or licenses the original content within the TuneEd website and app. This includes original explanations, quizzes, questions, layouts, graphics, teaching resources, revision materials, code and app design.

© 2026 TuneEd. All rights reserved. TuneEd™ is an educational music learning platform by Nathan Sant.

2. Permitted use by licensed schools

Licensed schools may use TuneEd content for teaching, learning and revision within the named licensed school during the licence period.

Teachers may display TuneEd resources in lessons and direct pupils to use TuneEd for classwork, homework, revision, quizzes and exam-style preparation.

3. Restrictions

Unless TuneEd gives written permission, users and schools must not:

copy TuneEd resources for use outside the licensed school;

upload TuneEd resources to public websites or shared drives outside the school;

sell, publish, redistribute or commercially exploit TuneEd content;

remove copyright notices or branding;

copy TuneEd's design, structure, question banks or learning materials to create a competing product;

scrape, bulk download, extract or reproduce large amounts of TuneEd content.

4. Third-party works and set works

TuneEd may refer to third-party musical works, recordings, videos, lyrics, scores, set works, exam-board materials or public educational resources for teaching and revision purposes.

All third-party works remain the property of their respective copyright owners. TuneEd does not claim ownership of third-party music, recordings, lyrics, scores, exam specifications, exam-board materials, videos, trademarks or brand names.

5. Independence disclaimer

TuneEd is an independent educational resource. It is not affiliated with, endorsed by, or sponsored by WJEC, Hamilton, Lin-Manuel Miranda, Disney, YouTube, Microsoft, Apple, OpenAI or any other third-party rights holder unless clearly stated.

6. Links and embedded content

TuneEd may link to or embed external content, such as videos, websites or educational resources. Users must follow the terms and copyright rules of those external services.

External links are provided for educational convenience. TuneEd is not responsible for the availability, accuracy, copyright status or privacy practices of external websites.

7. Reporting a copyright concern

If you believe content on TuneEd infringes copyright or should be removed, please contact support@tuneed.uk.

Please include:

your name and contact details;
the content you are concerned about;
the URL or location of the content in TuneEd;
details of the rights owner or licence issue;
the action you are requesting.

TuneEd will review reasonable copyright concerns and may remove or amend content where appropriate.
